Additional information	You are required to submit a CV and a supporting statement with your application, outlining how you meet each of the selection criteria for the role. CVs alone will not be considered.

The role

In this role you will provide project and administrative support to the PI and research group. This will include day-to-day tasks such as diary and email management, data collection and report generation, maintaining details regarding group research outputs, website maintenance, booking meetings, and arranging events.

These tasks will be in support of research focused on AI model safety, security, reliability and robustness, as well as foundational research on frontier models. This covers topics such as uncertainty quantification and reliable decision-making, multi-agent systems, reasoning, neural network quantisation, on-device machine learning, and benchmark development.

About the research group. Machine learning (ML), or “AI” as it is referred to by the media, has been the driving force behind the most exciting recent technological advances, having its impact on fields as diverse as medical imaging, conversational agents, astronomy, and many more. The Oxford Applied and Theoretical Machine Learning (OATML) group is an energetic world-leading research group working at the core of machine learning research and its applications, located at the Computer Science department, and led by Yarin Gal, Associate Professor of Machine Learning. We are a multidisciplinary team of researchers (post-doc scientists and DPhil students), coming from diverse backgrounds including Computer Science, Maths & Stats, Engineering and Physics.

Flexible working

This role is offered with part-time hours (15 hrs / week). This role is hybrid.

Selection criteria

Essential

1. Previous EA/PA or project management experience is essential. Candidates without this will not be considered.
2. Demonstrable experience of complex diary management, managing competing demands and ability to prioritise requests.
3. Excellent written communication skills, able to draft correspondence (letters, reports etc.) which is well structured, clear and tailored to the audience.
4. Experience with financial administration and reporting, including the ability to be numerate and accurate, with excellent attention to detail and a methodical approach.
5. Evidence of tact and discretion in dealing with confidential or sensitive matters.
6. Attention to detail and high level of accuracy.
7. Ability to work independently, using own initiative, or as part of a team.
8. Ability to organise events and make administrative arrangements.
9. Excellent skills in office IT systems, including e-mail, Internet, MS Office applications with an aptitude to learn new software quickly.

Desirable

1. Experience working in a higher education institution.
2. Experience maintaining publication details on platforms such as Symplectic Elements, to support open research access.
3. Experience maintaining websites using GitHub.

Pre-employment screening

Standard checks

If you are offered the post, the offer will be subject to standard pre-employment checks. You will be asked to provide: proof of your right-to-work in the UK; proof of your identity; and (if we haven't done so already) we will contact the referees you have nominated. If you have previously worked for the University we will also verify key information such as your dates of employment and reason for leaving your previous role with the department/unit where you worked. You will also be asked to complete a health declaration so that you can tell us about any health conditions or disabilities for which you may need us to make appropriate adjustments.

Please read the candidate notes on the University's pre-employment screening procedures at:

How to apply

Applications are made through our online recruitment portal. Information about how to apply is available on our Jobs website <https://www.jobs.ox.ac.uk/how-to-apply>.

Your application will be judged solely on the basis of how you demonstrate that you meet the selection criteria stated in the job description.

As part of your application you will be asked to provide details of two referees and indicate whether we can contact them now.

You will be asked to upload a CV and a supporting statement. The supporting statement must explain how you meet each of the selection criteria for the post using examples of your skills and experience. This may include experience gained in employment, education, or during career breaks (such as time out to care for dependants)

Please upload all documents as PDF files with your name and the document type in the filename.

All applications must be received by midday UK time on the closing date stated in the online advertisement.

If you currently work for the University please note that:

- as part of the referencing process, we will contact your current department to confirm basic employment details including reason for leaving
- although employees may hold multiple part-time posts, they may not hold more than the equivalent of a full time post. If you are offered this post, and accepting it would take you over the equivalent of full-time hours, you will be expected to resign from, or reduce hours in, your other posts(s) before starting work in the new post.

Information for priority candidates

A priority candidate is a University employee who is seeking redeployment because they have been advised that they are at risk of redundancy, or on grounds of ill-health/disability. Priority candidates are issued with a redeployment letter by their employing department(s).

If you are a priority candidate, please ensure that you attach your redeployment letter to your application (or email it to the contact address on the advert if the application form used for the vacancy does not allow attachments).
